CHAMBERLAIN HOTEL AT OLD POINT BURNS

Famous Hostelry Completely Destroyed Early Last Night

MANY CLOSE CALLS

Flames Devastate Resort in Two Hours—Was on Verge of Big Easter Season.

Old Point Comfort, Va., March 8.—The Chamberlin Hotel, on the waterfront here, was destroyed last night by fire, which spread to the steamer wharf and threatened the Shenwood Hotel and other adjacent property.

The fire started in the Chamberlin, a tourist hotel, just before the dinner hour, and first reports indicated that everybody escaped.

Several thousand soldiers from Fort Monroe aided the local fire department and help was called from Hampton Roads and Newport News when it appeared that other hotels and the army artillery school plant were in danger.

Tugs in the harbor pumped water on the land end of the piers, close by the hotel and ships due to touch there were ordered away.

The origin of the fire is not known. All that has been definitely established is that it started on the ground floor. The myriad delicate carved woodwork fixtures, the heavy tapestries, and the old-fashioned furnishings which helped to make the hotel famous, were veritable dry tinder for the flames, and in a few minutes the entire first floor was a raging hell, with flames rapidly eating their way to the upper stories.

There were a number of thrilling escapes, both men and women risking their lives to recover valuables they left in their rooms when the alarm was first given.

Two women, one of them a Miss Jordan, whose home is said to be in Pennsylvania, came dangerously near losing their lives when they rushed back into their room to recover some valuables, after they had been carried to safety by firemen and soldiers from Fort Monroe. Miss Jordan's companion said she had $2,000 in her room, and she would not heed the advice of firemen and friends to remain out of the burning structure. When the two women reached their room they found they were cut off by the fire. They came to a window on the third floor and cried for help.

Seven firemen volunteered to rescue the women, and after climbing up the fire escape and along the cornice work of the building which was being lighted with flames at the time they reached them. They were brought back along the cornice work of the building and down the fire escape to safety.

During the rescue, firemen kept pouring water on their companions who had volunteered to save the women, thus keeping their clothing from catching fire.

Several other women had to be carried from their rooms in the arms of soldiers or firemen.

CALLS WILSON MEDDLER

Paper Says Adriatic Note Represents Selfishness and Arrogance of President Himself

Providence, March 8.—Bitter attack on President Wilson for his stand on the Adriatic problem characterized an address here yesterday before a state meeting of the Sons of Italy by F. H. La Guardia, president of the New York Board of Aldermen.

"The last spiteful note of the President on the Adriatic questions shows that he represents not the justice loving American people, but rather the selfish arrogance of himself," he declared. "Meddling and muddling in the affairs of other nations is not the will of the American people, and President Wilson's action in so doing is unforgivable."

VIRGINIA HOSPITAL BURNS

Memorial Institution Near Danville Was Open Four Months

Danville, Va., March 8.—The Watt Memorial Hospital at Martinsville, opened less than four months ago, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night with a loss of $25,000. There was $5,000 insurance.

The flames originated from an oil stove in a bathroom and quickly communicated with the entire two story frame building, which was beyond the town's water line. The only two patients were removed to safety. The hospital was given to Martinsville by Mrs. Bettie Hairston as a memorial to her son.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN

"Pancho" Villa Said to Have Commanded Guerrillas Who Killed Nearly Two-Score Passengers

El Paso, March 8.—Francisco Villa commanded the bandits who held up and robbed the Northbound Mexico City passenger train near Corralites last Thursday, when thirty-three persons were killed and several held for ransom, including one American, according to passengers who reached Chihuahua City today.

According to passengers the train was stopped by an explosive placed on the track which derailed the locomotive. A pitched battle ensued between fifty Yaqui soldiers of the train guard and Villa followers to the number of 300, commanded by Francisco Villa in person. Nineteen soldiers, four civilians and ten bandits were killed when the fighting ended with the retirement of a sub-lieutenant and six Yaquis, all of the train guard who

Home Hunters Already Out in Search of Houses Daily—Demand to be Greater With Good Weather

Despite the fact that the winter months as a rule are very dull in the real estate line there has been unusual activity in the sale of property this winter and real estate dealers report that there is every indication of an unusually heavy demand for houses during the coming spring and summer months and persons hunting houses already have begun the search there being many applicants daily at the real estate offices who desire to purchase houses.

WILL RESTORE BONUS

Senators Smoot and Warren to Offer No Objection to Continuing Item

Washington, March 8.—No objections to the restoration of the $240 salary bonus for Federal employe will be interposed by Senators Warren or Smoot, when the matter comes before the Senate Appropriations subcommittee tomorrow morning.

It is expected that the legislative executive, and judicial appropriation measure, with the bonus put back in it, will be favorably reported to the Senate the latter part of the week. The Senate committee probably will await the end of the debate on the peace treaty before reporting the bill.

Senator Warren is chairman of the subcommittee, and Senator Smoot its ranking majority member. The approval of these two men for the bonus makes it certain that there will be no serious fight in committee against it.

WILSON FIRM IN HIS STAND

Note to Allies Rejects Plan of British and French Premiers

Washington, March 8.—Standing firmly on the Anglo-French American agreement of December 9 as an irrevocable expression of what the British, French and American governments shall regard as the proper basis for a settlement of the Adriatic controversy, President Wilson has rejected the recent proposal of the British and French Premiers that he join with them in an invitation to Italy and Jugo-Slavia to enter upon direct negotiations, predicated upon a withdrawal of that memorandum.

The text of the President's reply to this proposition was made public by the State Department last night. While it reiterates the President's willingness that the two most interested powers shall undertake a solution of their differences through mutual agreement, it rejects unhesitatingly the proposal that, for their part, the other governments, including the United States, shall wipe the slate clean of their previously agreed upon program.

SPORTS

By a score of 47-13 the Dreadnaughts maintained their winning streak over the Linworth A. C. of Washington Saturday night in the Armory. Billy Crouch, the locals big center, was easily the star of the contest, shooting ten goals from the floor, while the guarding and passing of Captain Johnny Wenzel had a great deal to do with the low score of the visitors.

A game that is bound to arouse great interest is booked for Wednesday night at the Armory when the Bolling Field Aviators meet the Dreadnaughts, as the "birdmen" are looking for revenge for the only defeat administered to them last fall on the gridiron when the locals sent them across the Potomac with a 30-0 defeat.

Matters are progressing nicely on the Dreadnaughts Athletic Carnival which will be held at the Alexandria Opera House on the night of March 15th. Many treats are in store for local followers of sport on this date as execellent material has been secured by the committee. Athletic matches songs and jazz, which is bound to please all.

In view of the close score of the High School-Dreadnaught game last Friday night at the small gym of the A. H. S. quint, there is much discussion as to the outcome of a game if these clubs could meet on a larger floor. In this connection the Dreadnaught management is willing to give the High School lads another chance at the city title, the game to be staged at Armory Hall.

Mrs. Charles W. Pampoh has returned to her home in The Wagar after a visit to relatives in Cleveland, Ohio.

CAPTURE STILL IN OPERATION

Police Gather In Six Men Who Were Playing Cards in Room

TRIAL AT 7 TONIGHT

Raisins, Prunes, Newly Made Brandy, Gas Stoves, etc., Together With Still Hauled to Headquarters.

In a raid made yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in an apartment house at 413 Wilkes street the police captured a still in full operation together with a large quantity of prunes, raisins and several barrels and other effects. They also took in custody six white men whom they say were engaged in a game of cards.

The entire outfit was brought to police headquarters in a big automomile truck after the men had been locked up.

The men taken in the raid will be arraigned at a special session of the police court at 7 o'clock tonight. They will be represented by Attorney Edmund Burke and Commonwealth's attorney Howard W. Smith will conduct the prosecution.

The hearing will be before Justice L. H. Thompson. It is also expected that the government will be represented at the hearing.

The police say that when they entered the place the still was in full operation, the hot brandy trickling at the rate of about a half gallon an hour from the still.

There were two large milk cans on a gas stove filled with raisins, prunes and other ingredients used for the manufacture of the "jump steady" and in addition the police found one full sized barrel filled with raisins and other ingredients, another full sized barrel was partially filled with prunes a small barrel was partially filled with a beverage which the police said was something evidentally manufactured by those engaged in the illicit distilling. A barrel of cider was also in the room. In addition to the foregoing the police also carried along a gas heater, corks, labels and a number of pans and other minor articles.

The authorities are endeavoring to ascertain the owners of the still and the names of those who were engaged in the task of distilling.

The six men taken in custody gave the following names: Nick Bideski, Frank Millich, Mike Share, Peter Rozich, George Miller, John Chepo. The raid was made by Chief Goods. Sergeants Wilkinson, Campbell and Policeman Lunsford, most of the men are foreigners.

The raid attracted a large crowd and especially around police headquarters when the truck drove up with the effects taken from the room in which the men were found. During the evening many persons called at police headquarters and viewed the still. The police have not yet placed any specific charge against the men taken in custody until they get their evidence together.

This is the first real still captured in Alexandria since prohibition became effective in Virginia several years ago.

Members of the police department are being congratulated on the successful manner in which the raid was planned and carried out, there being no hitch whatsoever in the proceedings, and every available piece of evidence being captured, even down to a real copper still in full operation.

FIRE DAMAGES THREE HOUSES

Originated in Unoccupied House—Slight Fire in Southern Roundhouse

Fire of undertermined origin at 11:30 o'clock last night partially destroyed three frame dwellings 517, 519 and 521 South Henry street.

The fire is said to have started in house 521 which was unoccupied and soon caught the rooves of the adjoining houses, which were occupied by John Pumroy and W. F. and W. L. Bryan. The firemen worked 45 minutes before subduing the blaze. Coats and helmets of the firemen were coated with ice, the water freezing as fast as it fell.

A small fire in the pipe shop of the new Southern Railway roundhouse brought out the fire department at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire, however, was extinguished by the railway fire department before the arrival of the city fire department.

Fire shortly before 1 o'clock this morning partially destroyed a box car on a side track on St. Asaph street near the plant of the Virginia Feed and Milling Company. Its origin is unknown.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, LORAINE C. EVANS, who left us one year ago today.

O could I open wide the grave,
And see your dear face once more,
And hear your voice as all I crave
As in the days' of yore.
The bloom of life was in her cheeks
And bright glow in her eyes,
None knew that she so soon would change,
Or would so quickly die.
Once the music of her voice
Made our happy hearts [illegible],
And her bright and sm[illegible] face,
Was the sunshine of our place.
The flowers we lay about her grave
May wither and decay
But sweeter thoughts of m[illegible]ry
Within our hearts shall stay.

GETTING IT IN THE NECK

A tidy little example of profiteering is offered by the collar-makers, who announce that the price of their product will be raised to 35 cents on the first of April—an appropriate date if the American people are fools enough to stand for it. Collars already hold the long distance record, despite the rivalry of shoes, for advance in prices. Sold a few years ago at the rate of two for a quarter, they have gone up from 15 cents to 30 cents straight by repeated five-cent advances. And now another nickel is to be added to a price that is more than exorbitant.

No plausible explanation has been offered for this observes a contemporary, and it is a fair assumption that none can be. If the retailers may be believed, there is no excuse for the present price. The manufacturers may plead an increase in the cost of material, but it cannot have been great enough to justify a price three times greater than of pre-war days. On the contrary, recently published figures show that one of the largest concerns reports net profits of $5 153,129 in 1919, as compared with $1,871,162 in 1918. There is watered stock in the capital of this concern, but it pays 7 per cent on its prefered stock and 8 per cent on its common. Under what plea of necessity can the retail price of the product be defended?

Mr. Palmer has long been vocal on the subject of how the government might, could, would or should decrease the cost of living. Here seems to be an excellent opportunity for a concrete illustration of his theories.

DANGERS OF CANCER

With cancer causing 90,000 deaths in the United States annually, the Department of Public Health is cooperating in a nation wide drive to combat the increasing prevalence of the disease. Cancer, in most cases is curable if treated in time, according to the bulletin issued by the department.

"The foremost fact which the public should know," says the bulletin, "is that many cases of cancer in the early stages are curable. Cancer, is not contagious. Furthermore there should be no fear of inheriting this disease, as the theory of heredity has not been conclusively shown.

"Although we do not know the actual cause of cancer, we certainly know much about it. We know the disease begins as a small growth such as a lump or ulcer, which is slow to heal. These may appear as innocent growths at first, but because of repeated injury or for some other reason they take up an unusual activity, especially in persons more than forty years of age. Jagged teeth may be the exciting cause of ulcers of the tongue ultimately resulting in cancer, while pipe smoking may so irritate the lips that carcinomatous ulceration may result.

"It should also be known that there it but one positive cure for cancer, which is early and complete removal. Surgical treatment gives the best results, provided it is done at the start of the disease. Internal medicines are worthless."

ECHO OF RECONSTRUCTION

A Richmond paper which publishes clippings from its files of half a century ago, one day last week reprinted the following:

"The elections committee has reported against the claim of Hon. Joseph Segar to a seat in Congress.

He will appeal to the House of Representatives for a verdict in his case different from that of the committee. There is, of course, no question of his having received a majority of ten votes for Virginia Congressman at large, and it is said that there was really a desire on the part of the committee to seat Mr. Segar, but the trouble was they could find no laws for the position of Congressman at large from Virginia."

Fifty years ago Joseph Segar was a prominent Virginia politician. He ran on the Gilbert C. Walker ticket for Congresman-at-large in 1869. As is stated above, he was denied the seat after having been elected.

About forty years ago Segar was a passenger on the steamer George Leary, then running on the route between this port and Norfolk. He became sick and finally died before the boat reached her wharf at Alexandria.

PUBLIC INTERESTS SUBORDINATED

The following is from the Richmond Times-Dispatch:

"Proof of the power of the State Prohibition Department to subordinate vital public interests to its self perpetuating scheme of existence as an agency to dominate the politics of the State is reflected in the action of the Senate in restoring the $50,000 a year appropriation for its support after it had been cut to the sum of $25,000 by the House. If the agricultural needs of the State and the necessities of the indigent veterans of the war of 1861-65 are to be contemptuously scorned, that this offspring of the Anti-Saloon League may feast and dance at public expense, then it were better that the House refuse to concur in the Senate amendment and let the department die of inanition inseparable from its uselessness.

"A department that has failed to keep any system of accounts by which the General Assembly can arrive at an intelligent understanding of its financial functioning; that insists upon exercise of the power of search and seizure—has exercised it—outside the inhibition of the Constitution, that has projected its greed to the point of influencing a disregard of the budget, has reached a degree of pernicious political activity that makes it a matter of the highest public consideration that it be put out of commission. Its defiance of the public right to a full knowledge of its activities condemns its practices as beyond any rightful authority which the people of Virginia intended it should be clothed with. It has been weighed in the balances of intelligent public opinion and found wanting, and if the House is responsive to public sentiment and its own considerate judgment, formally expressed in its prior action, it will indignantly refuse to concur in the outrageous Senate amendment and appoint conferees who will stand at and defeat the appropriation without the necessity of the Governor having to intervene to kill the iniquitous item and protect the treasury against the unwarranted raid upon its sacred funds.

"In the wisdom which gave us our dual legislative system, the matter of original appropriation was placed with the House of Delegates, as the body closest to the people, and, therefore, it reflects upon the judgment and ability of the lower house to represent correctly the wishes and capacity of the taxpaying public when the Senate is allowed to dictate the items in the appropriation bill. The House should stand upon its rights, be true to the public interest and block the tendency of the upper body more and more to encroach upon its rightful exercise of vested initiative."

ASSAULTS FRENCH ENVOYS

Prince Joachim Leads Attack When Visitors Refuse to Stand

Berlin, March 8.—The fashionable Adlon Hotel dining room was the scene of a rough-and-tumble fight Saturday night between Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, a cousin of the former German emperor, and his guests, and Captains Klein and Rouchevin and Mme. Klein, members of the French mission. The hostilities were due to the French people refusing to stand while the orchestra was playing "Deutschland uber alles."

Joachim and his friends hurled candles, crockery and other things at the French party and Capt. Rouchevin was beaten and had his clothes torn. Capt. Klein was escorted out of the dining room by waiters, who defended him.

The episode apparently was planned by Joachim, who has the reputation of being a pan-German extremist. It is said he has been virtually barred from other hotels of Berlin where he has attempted similar outbreaks against foreigners.

Many members of the foreign commission in Berlin live at the Adlon and Joachim recently has been appearing there nightly, wearing his Iron cross and ordering the orchestra to play "Deutschland uber alles." Two former military officers, Baron von Platen and Herr Griebel, accompanied Joachim last night.

A majority of the guests in the dining room rose when the orchestra started the air, and Joachim's party began to hurl bottles and other missles at the table where the French party were seated when they failed to rise. The waiters got Mme. Klein out of the room during the melee but the Germans knocked one of the waiters senseless with a chair.

REPORT ON WRANGLE

All Investigators Agree Naval Morale Has Not Been Harmed

Washington, March 8.—The wrangle over awards to navy officers of war decorations drew nearer a conclusion last night when Chairman Page, of the Senate Naval Committee, made public the trio of reports the investigation produced.

The three Republican members joined in the majority report, which sharply criticized Secretary Daniels in some respects, while the two Democrats submitted individual reports defending the Secretary's course and directing their attack, in turn, at Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, the most prominent figure in the controversy stirred over navy medals and crosses.

In one respect the three reports are unique. They agree on two points: that no permanent harm has come to naval morale as a result of the awards or the controversy, and that enlisted men received too small a share of recognition for their services.

The majority report, signed by Senators Hale, McCormick and Poindexter, arraigns Mr. Daniels for not having fully advised officers as to his plans in making awards and asserts that his policy of decorating officers who lost ships would be detertrimental to the navy.

Senator Pittman, in the first minority report, characterized the investigation as a tempest in a teapot, "too ridiculous to be mentioned in connection with the morale of a fighting navy."

SHIP DRIVEN ON ROCKS

Coast Guard Cutter Rushing to Aid of Propellerless Vessel

Halifax, N. S., March 8.—The United States Shipping Board steamer Lake Ellithorpe, from Fowey, England, for New York, yesterday lost her propeller and last night was being swept by a 70 mile gale toward the rocks of Sable Island. The coast guard cutter Seneca is hurrying to her assistance from New York.

Boston, March 8.—The Shipping Board steamer Guilford, Norfolk to Boston, which was reported disabled 15 miles off Nantucket Shoals early early yesterday, was abandoned later and had become a menace to navigation last night, according to wireless received here from the steamer Pocahontas, which stood by during the day. The captain and crew, who were taken aboard the Pocahontas yesterday forenoon, later were transferred to the destroyer Dale and taken to Newport, R. I.

The Guilford, coal laden, sprang a leak last night. Her S O S signals sent out shortly after 1 a. m., yesterday were intercepted by the Pocahontas and the British steamer Mesaba. The former vessel hove to about 9 a. m., and took aboard the captain and 38 of the crew. Four other seamen, who were left to keep the vessel under control, were taken off later, when it was found that she had 10 feet of water in her holds.

The Coast Guard cutter Acushnet was sent out from Woodsole to take the abandoned vessel in tow. A late message from the Pocahontas to the Acushnet said the Guilford was settling fast and probably would sink within a few hours.

GIRL KILLED

New York, March 8.—An unidentified assassin, lurking in a dark hallway in the heart of the city's Italian district, poured three shots from an automatic into a throng of pedestrians on Mulberry Street early last evening. Each bullet found a mark. Two girls, one of whom died later in Volunteer Hospital, fell to the sidewalk. The third victim, a man who had been walking just behind them, ran to a drug store a block away, and there collapsed with a wound in his abdomen.

The slain girl was Lena Spinelli, nineteen, of 128 Baxter Street. Her companion was Josephine Gentile, eighteen, of 78 Mott Street. She is in a critical condition in Volunteer Hospital. The wounded man is Giuseppe De Cesari, thirty-six, of 167 Mulberry Street. He was removed to St. Vincent's Hospital and is not expected to live.

De Cesari, the police believe, was the intended victim of the gunmen and knows his identity. He is the delegate of a barbers' local union, and is said to have been threatened recently by a fellow Italian, whose sweetheart he won.

PLAN TO HURRY TREATY

Washington, March 8.—Various methods of hastening action on the peace treaty were discussed at conferences among Republican and Democratic Senators today as a result of the apparently universal sentiment of the leaders that nothing in the direction of compromise would be gained by further delaying the decisive vote.

It was said no final conclusions were reached, though it was predicted in some quarters that today's session would see a formal agreement to limit debate on the six reservations which remain to be disposed of under the present program before the Senate gives its attention to Article 10. It generally is conceded that by the decision on this article the treaty will stand or fall and all of the leaders have said they were anxious to get through with details and start the fight on the main issue.

Despite the statements made yesterday by White House officials and generally accepted as meaning that President Wilson had not altered his stand on compromise, the negotiations for an agreement on Article 10 continued today, with influential Senators on both sides declaring there still was a chance of success.

It was the general feeling last night that in any eventuality the debate probably would be brought to an end and a ratification vote taken some time during the present week.

MUST NOT JOIN UNIONS

Dominion Government Rules Dominion Employees May Belong to No Labor Bodies

Ottawa, March 8.—The right of employees of the Dominion government to join labor unions was denied in a letter today by the Cabinet to the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

"There is no incentive from the standpoint of profit to cause the government to impose unfair working conditions or wages," the letter says, "and Parliament as made adequate provision for settling grievances."

The letter adds that, in so far as private industry is concerned, the government already has sanctioned the workers' right to organize and has recognized the wisdom of collective bargaining on more than one occasion.

Anti-Saloon League's Tactics at Albany May be Investigated

New York, March 8.—The question of prohibition will not enter into the proposed investigation of the State Anti-Saloon League's activities by the Assembly Judiciary Committee, Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, who initiated the inquiry, declared in a statement last night.

One of the main questions, Assemblyman Cuvillier stated, is whether William H. Anderson, State Superintendent, and the league violated the constitution of the State "in coercing, intimidating and having candidates for members of the Legislature pledge themselves in writing to the Anti-Saloon League."

Another question, he said, is whether "Anderson and the Anti-Saloon League intimidated and coerced members of the Legislature to vote for the confirmation or rejection of candidates for public office nominated by the Governor of the State or the Legislature, if said candidate so nominated favored prohibition."

"The source and disposition of the money collected by the Anti-Saloon League, if it was used for secret political ends, must also be determined," Assmblyman Cuvillier declared.

COST OF PROHIBITION

Central Federation, With a Membership of 350,000, Opposes $50,000,000 Appropriation to Enforce Law

New York, March 8.—The high cost of prohibition should be prohibited, according to the Central Federated Union, whose subsidiary unions have a membership of 350,000 here. The union issued a statement today, protesting against the expenditure of $50,000,000 to enforce prohibition.

It will be much better, the union suggested, if the government would use the $50,000,000 "to relieve housing conditions throughout the country, thus preventing rent profiteers from exploiting the people."

"Indications point that some of the prohibition Congressmen," said one part of the statement, "are going back to private life as soon as the people get an opportunity on election day to show what they think of the prohibition law."

REFUSE TO RAISE SALARIES

Members of Virginia Assembly Decide Against Doubling Pay

Richmond, Va., March 8.—Members of the general assembly last night refused to increase their own salaries.

The house, by a vote of 28 to 23, refused to take up out of its order and advanced to its third reading and ingrossment house bill 401, providing for a 100 per cent increase in the salary of the speaker of the house, the president of the Senate and members of the two branches.

Members of the general assembly now receive $500 a session, and the speaker of the house and president of the senate $720.

DEAD BY HIS OWN HAND

Newport News Business Man Ends Life With Revolver Bullet

Newport News, Va., March 8.—R. D. Holloway, president of the Vassar-Abbott Co., whose financial transactions caused the recent closing of the Colonial State Bank here, committed suicide at an early hour Saturday morning, shooting himself in the right temple with a 32 caliber revolver.

Warrant was served on Holloway last night, charging him, along with the cashier of the bank, Frank R. Bartlett, with the larceny of $15,000 of the bank's funds. He had bee bailed to appear in Police Court, and it was understood that as a result of the warrant, which was sworn out by C. C. Berkley, Commonwealth's attorney, a grand jury investigation of the bank's failure would begin next week.

Holloway was found dead on the floor of his dining room when his wife came down, attracted by the muffled report of a revolver.

A copy of a morning paper, telling of Holloway's arrest, lay spead on the table in front of the chair in which he sat. The chair was overturned in the floor and blood oozed from a tiny hole in Holloway's right temple.

Holloway had $79,000 in life insurance, which was assigned to the Colonial State Bank.

The bank was declared insolvent and failed to open its doors on February 21. A report of the State Corporation Commission declared that credits of more than $300,000 extended to the Vassar-Abbott Co., were responsible for the failure of the bank.

Holloway was a native of surry County, and was 55 years old. He had been prominent in business circles in Newport News for twenty-five years. He was twice married, but leaves no children.

HEART REMOVED; LIVES

Organ is Replaced After Bullet is Taken Out

Some days ago surgeons at St. Joseph's Hospital,at Omaha, took the heart out of Steve Zakich, an Austrian, who had shot himself, removed the bullet from the heart, where it was imbedded, replaced the organ in Zakich's body and sewed up the incision. Today Zakich is on the road to recovery.

The operation was performed after the bullet had been in Zakich's heart nearly thirty-six hours. When surgeons arrived after Zakich fired the bullet into his heart they thought he would die in a few minutes. After he had survived thirty-six hours the operation was performed.

In performing the operation the surgeons cut through three ribs and exposed the heart. Dr. Simanck reached into the opening, took the pulsing heart in his hand, lifted it clear of the body and removed the bullet, after which he replaced the heart where it belonged.—Morning Oregonian.

CATHOLIC BISHOPS SLAIN

Paris, March 8.—Details of the recent butchery of Armenians show that the massacre was the most barbaric yet recorded. Ten Catholic bishops were among those tortured to death. Mgr. Tchelbian, Bishop of Diarbekir, it is learned, was buried alive with only his head left above the ground, while Mgr. Katchadourlian, Bishop of Malakia, was roasted to death over a slow fire.

THEATRES

GRAND THEATRE

Robert McKim, the king bee delin-eator of screen scoundrels, has r role of almost stellar importance with William S. Hart in "The Si-lent Man," made by Thomas H. Ince for Artcraft.

McKim is Ince's star picture-vil-lian, who can be counted upon to do almost anything in the way of evi deeds before the last few hundred feet of a film when, with the kind assistance of the scenario writer, h goes the way of all bad men of the pictures.

In Hart's new photoplay, "The Si lent Man," which will be seen at th Grand Theatre tonight, McKim wil be seen as the proprietor of a gamb ling place in a small town on the border land of the Arizona desert. During the unfolding of the story, in his character of "Handsome Jack" Pressley, he does everything he can think of to foil "Bill" Hart, but, o course, he fails. Also Chapter 3 o "Trail of the Octopus."

RICHMOND THEATRE

Norma Talmadge has troubles o her own in "She Loves and Lies," an adaptation of Wilkie Collins' fa mous novel, which opens at the Rich mond Theatre tonight. Not only i she called upon to assume the role of a young actress, a frequenter o Greenwich Village, New York's fa mous Bohemian quarter, and an ol lady of 62, but she must play th latter part so well that she can land a husband of about half her age —and she gets away with it.

"She Loves and Lies," is one o those plays that interests at the start, grows in suspense and ends with a climax that contains a sur prise. Miss Talmadge has the best opportunity of her career for comedy work, and shows that she is talented in this line as well as emotional roles.

Conway Tearle, her handsome leading man, also has a role well cited to his talents and is an admir-ble foil to the fun of the star, and he rest of the cast is excellent.

Altogether "She Loves and Lies" s a delightful comedy with an un-sually good plot, a vehicle that adds nuch to the reputation of its star.

INGOMAR THEATER

Wm. S. Hart in "Hell's Hinges," will be the attraction. Chapter 2 f "The Adventures of Ruth," also will be shown.

"Scares Her Nearly to Death" and She Dashes for Hospital

Wilmington, Del., March 8.—Blow-ing her nose, Marjorie Pryor, a Cheste girl visiting here, was scared nearly to death when her left eye dropped out on her cheek. She pushed it back into place and rushed for the Dela-ware Hospital.

She was given treatment and later returned to her home. The hospital would not discuss the case except to say that such things sometimes hap-pened and the eye was sometimes tem porarily removed when operations were performed.
